↓ Exhibition #1.1 @ Chalet Society – Paris

by Don Tercio on 24/10/2012 · Leave a comment

Everything, all over again. After transforming London in a big white & red circus arena showcasing all sorts of "unusual" amateur art and many many bizarreness the MOE (which we've been following since its Primrose Hill edition) comes to Paris after its summer Russian tour...

MOE Paris edition

And what can we expect in this "Exhibition 1.1"? Something Parisians will love as this sort of "spontaneous" act of uniqueness showcasing is not very common in the French capital, usually not very welcoming to new proposals. So when we found out the Chalet Society (a new art space helmed by Marc-Olivier Wahler, former director of Palais de Tokyo) had decided to bring the sweet candy MOE always is, we couldn't but rejoice & recommend...

we are looking for... WRITERS!

based in the old smoke:
if you're savvy with art, culture, technology and everything in-between

or in Bardot's birthplace:
if alternative comics, cinema or animation
are your thing
